

UNESCO Biosphere Isle of Man Youth representatives on Stakeholder Partnership Group

How we will choose our youth representatives:

Suitable applicants will:

- Be sent some reading and a link to a video about the function of UNESCO Biosphere Isle of Man, although this is readily available on our website and applicants may have researched it already.
- Be invited in for an informal chat with, and to present their ideas for engagement to, the UNESCO Biosphere Project Officer Jo Overty and existing youth representative Georgia Untisz. This will be in early October 2023. And don't worry – we are both super-friendly.
- Demonstrate a basic knowledge of UNESCO Biosphere Isle of Man and issues around sustainability and interest in same; have ideas about how to engage with and gather the views of young people; show a positive rather than critical approach.
- Be informed of success/other as soon as possible after the informal chat.
